

Describing Feelings

- ed : describes an effect
- ing : describes the cause

Teachers are always overwhelmed with tests!

-ed or -ing adjectives

Usually after the following verbs: be, become, feel, get, grow, look, seem, and turn.

to alarm	to confuse	to excite	to irritate	to terrify
to amaze	to convince	to exhaust	to overwhelm	to threaten
to amuse	to depress	to fascinate	to puzzle	to thrill
to annoy	to disappoint	to frighten	to relax	to tire
to astonish	to disgust	to frustrate	to satisfy	to worry
to astound	to embarrass	to horrify	to shock
to bore	to encourage	to interest	to surprise

1. Use the right adjective, -ed or -ing. Choose the best option to complete each sentence.

- My most _____ experience as a teenager was travelling to London on my own. I remember I was so _____ that I couldn't sleep the night before my flight. (excite)
- I was really _____ when I got to the airport and found out that Julie, the girl I liked most from high school, was travelling with me. (surprise)
- I felt rather _____ when she asked to sit next to me. Did she feel the same way as I did? (confuse)
- She told me she was a little bit _____ about the flight. (worry)
- I advised her to listen to some _____ music. Soon, we both felt more _____. (relax)
- I learnt lots of English and found out that Julie was _____ in me! My stay in London was extremely _____. (interest)

2. Complete the sentences with an adjective, -ed or -ing, or the verb in the right verb tense form.

- Tommy is really _____ (excite) about driving his specially adapted car.
- He is really _____ (interest) in travelling. He won't have to depend on his parents any more.
- Some drivers park in places reserved for disabled parking - this _____ (annoy) me!
- Finding a place to park is very _____ (frustrate) for shoppers when they're in a hurry.

3. Complete the sentences by adding the correct suffix to the words below:

- amaze • excite • exhaust •
- interest • satisfy • shock •

- I went to the U2 concert on Saturday night. It was absolutely _____!
- Sally isn't _____ in football. She thinks it's a stupid game!
- That was a _____ meal. I haven't eaten such good food in a long time.
- She was _____ when she won the contest. She didn't believe it at first.
- Dave had to walk over 30 km to get home. He was _____ when he arrived.
- There are a lot of _____ rides at the amusement park, but some of them are too scary for me.

Gosh! How embarrassing!

Describing Feelings

- ed : describes an effect
- ing : describes the cause

Teachers are always overwhelmed with tests!

-ed or -ing adjectives

Usually after the following verbs: be, become, feel, get, grow, look, seem, and turn.

to alarm	to confuse	to excite	to irritate	to terrify
to amaze	to convince	to exhaust	to overwhelm	to threaten
to amuse	to depress	to fascinate	to puzzle	to thrill
to annoy	to disappoint	to frighten	to relax	to tire
to astonish	to disgust	to frustrate	to satisfy	to worry
to astound	to embarrass	to horrify	to shock
to bore	to encourage	to interest	to surprise

1. Use the right adjective, -ed or -ing. Choose the best option to complete each sentence.

- My most exciting experience as a teenager was travelling to London on my own. I remember I was so excited that I couldn't sleep the night before my flight. (excite)
- I was really surprised when I got to the airport and found out that Julie, the girl I liked most from high school, was travelling with me. (surprise)
- I felt rather confused when she asked to sit next to me. Did she feel the same way as I did? (confuse)
- She told me she was a little bit worried about the flight. (worry)
- I advised her to listen to some relaxing music. Soon, we both felt more relaxed. (relax)
- I learnt lots of English and found out that Julie was interested in me! My stay in London was extremely interesting. (interest)

2. Complete the sentences with an adjective, -ed or -ing, or the verb in the right verb tense form.

- Tommy is really excited (excite) about driving his specially adapted car.
- He is really interested (interest) in travelling. He won't have to depend on his parents any more.
- Some drivers park in places reserved for disabled parking - this annoys (annoy) me!
- Finding a place to park is very frustrating (frustrate) for shoppers when they're in a hurry.

3. Complete the sentences by adding the correct suffix to the words below:

- amaze • excite • exhaust •
- interest • satisfy • shock •

- I went to the U2 concert on Saturday night. It was absolutely interesting!
- Sally isn't interested in football. She thinks it's a stupid game!
- That was a satisfying meal. I haven't eaten such good food in a long time.
- She was shocked when she won the contest. She didn't believe it at first.
- Dave had to walk over 30 km to get home. He was exhausted when he arrived.
- There are a lot of amazing rides at the amusement park, but some of them are too scary for me.

Gosh! How embarrassing!